

Nanette Liégeois

Last Updated Tuesday, 21 August 2007

Meridian's founder, Nanette Liégeois, M. D., Ph.D., is a Harvard-trained and board-certified dermatologist. She is Assistant Professor and Director of Dermatologic Surgery, Department of Dermatology at Johns Hopkins University*, an active member of the American Academy of Dermatology, and an advocate for skin health awareness.

As an award-winning scientist, Dr. Liégeois began developing the Meridian Acne Therapy System after a detailed analysis of the best scientific data on acne treatment around the world. Her use of evidence-based medicine led to her discovery of Meridian's unique dual-action combination formula that clears acne and conditions the skin with a combination of the most effective pharmaceutical and natural ingredients. The Meridian system's combination therapy is patent pending.

Dr. Liégeois is a fellow of the American Academy of Dermatology, the American College of Mohs Micrographic Surgery and Cutaneous Oncology, and the American Society of Dermatological Surgery.

*Dr. Liégeois's involvement in the development of this product does not constitute endorsement by the Johns Hopkins University or Johns Hopkins Hospital and Health System.